

Contents

Preface / ix

Acknowledgements / xiv

Maps / ix

Part 1 Spanish Belize, 1528–1708: Attempts at Settlement

- 1 Early Belize: Spaniards and Maya in a Bloody Encounter / 3
- 2 Tipu, or Negroman: An “Outpost of Christianity” / 40
- 3 A New Phase of Resistance: Tipu in the Vanguard / 65

Part 2 British Belize, 1708–1823

- 4 Early British Settlement in Belize to 1763 / 95
- 5 “English Lutheran Corsairs” and the Miskito Indians:
An Odd Relationship / 128
- 6 Spanish Attacks on Belize to the Treaty of Paris, 1763:
Flight to the Mosquito Shore / 155

- 7 Post-Treaty Attacks, Despite Recognition: 1763–1787 / 180
- 8 The Mosquito Shore Settlers in Belize: The Establishment of Civil Government / 211
- 9 The Belize Settlement up to the Battle of St George's Cay / 245
- 10 Aftermath of the Battle of St George's Cay: Slavery in the Timber Industry / 283
- 11 Epilogue / 315

Appendix A: Inhabitants of the Bay of Honduras
Subscribing to the Articles of Regulations, 1765 / 327

Appendix B: Accounts of Loss Sustained by the British Settlers at the Capture of St Georges Key, 1779 / 329

Notes / 333

Bibliography / 395

Index / 407